RUSSIANS FALLING BACK ON YALU

A Japanese Advance Corps Ambushed Near Anju and Totally Destroyed

PREPARATIONS TO BLOCKADE THE PORT ARTHUR HARBOR

Twenty-Eight Old Steamers Stripped of All Valuable Machinery and Placed at Togo's Command. These Will Be Used in Squadrons of Sixes Until the Channel is Blocked.

Two Russian Battleships Collide.

Seoul, March 30.—The Japanese advance corps occupied Hsi Ju, a sea-port south of Anju, March 27th.
St. Petersburg, March 30.—A private dispatch received here states that during the manoeuvres in the inner harbor at Port Arthur the Russian ship Petropavlovsk collided with and seriously damaged the battleship Sebastopol. The navy department have no confirmation of the report.

Heavy Japanese Losses on Monday.

St. Petersburg, March 30.—A later official dispatch from General Mishchenko reports on the authority of the inhabitants of Chang Jun, Korea, the Japanese lost forty men killed, 100 men wounded, and a number of horses, during the fighting on Monday.
The Japanese employed 500 Korean horses to carry their wounded to Anju. Gen. Mishchenko reports that Captain Stopans, who was among the Russian wounded, succumbed.

Forty Jap Transports Land Troops in Corea.

Rome, March 30.—A dispatch from Seoul says that the Japanese have made their first attempt to land at New Chwang.
No details of the attack are given.
The dispatch adds that forty Japanese transports yesterday landed a large number of troops, 60 guns and enormous quantities of supplies at Chemulpo, Corea. The troops numbered 25,000, making 125,000 Japanese troops on Korean soil.

Russian Editor Attacks Uncle Sam.

St. Petersburg, March 30.—The newspapers continue their malevolent attacks on the United States. The Novoye Vremya in a conspicuously displayed article signed by Savarin, the editor who led the recent deputations to the czar demanding a European combination against America, for the sake of the United States as an insolent parvenue. "Since Europe friendly permitted her to rob Spain," says Savarin, "she pushes her nose in everywhere in Asia."
The action of the United States representative at New Chwang is greatly disliked.

Closing on Anju.

A Port Arthur dispatch of March 30th says: "In another engagement between Anju and Wiju a force of 600 Russians were driven from their position, and retreated, taking their wounded with them."
A Russian cruiser is reported to have been sunk.
It is unofficially reported that 53 Japanese soldiers were ambushed and destroyed in Northern Corea.
A press dispatch announces that the Japs have made a determined attempt to land near Port Arthur.

Preparations to Block Port Arthur.

Nagasaki, March 30.—The Japanese are determined in attacking Port Arthur. Twenty-eight old, useless steamers have been requisitioned and stripped of all but the machinery necessary for navigation and are held in readiness for Admiral Togo's orders. Six are to be sent out at a time.

Japanese Advance Corps Ambushed.

Seoul, March 30.—The latest reports from Northern Corea state that the Japanese troops are advancing in triplet formation and have reached Pakichon river, beyond Anju.
The Russians apparently in some force still occupy part of the northern Pakichon district.
Japs returning south state that 53 Japanese infantry attempted to advance north of the river and were ambushed by the Cossack cavalry and destroyed. The report lacks official confirmation.
The Japanese advance occupied Pajihose seaport, south of Anju, on March 27th.

Russians Falling Back Upon the Yalu.

Seoul, March 30.—The first land engagement in Corea has resulted in a victory for the Japanese army.
The day before yesterday the Japanese attacked six hundred Russians entrenched five miles north of Anju, on the main highway to Wiju.
After several hours of severe fighting, the Russians retired northwards, the Japanese taking the town.
The Russian losses are unknown, they carrying their wounded with them. In all probability this is the first and last engagement on Korean soil, as the Russians continue to retire from all points northward toward the Yalu.

HOUSE ADJOURNED

FOR EASTER HOLIDAYS

G. T. P. Discussion Will Come Off on Tuesday and Be Carried to a Finish.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Ottawa, March 30.—The House adjourned at six tonight until Tuesday. The estimates for public buildings in the West were passed today.
The Premier informed H. R. Bourassa that the Japanese Exclusion Act of British Columbia, had been disallowed.
The first mail for several days from west of Winnipeg, arrived today, as the effect of Friday's storm.
The snow is still deep here, but the weather is mild today.
The Transcontinental Railway Act amendments will be taken up on Tuesday and discussed to a finish. Long discussion is not likely from the present appearance.

NEGRO CANDIDATE

FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

The Colored People Want a Colored President. A Platform of Government Ownership.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
St. Louis, March 30.—W. L. Scott, a negro, announced today that preparations have been completed for a national convention for the nomination of a negro candidate for president at St. Louis on July 8th, the date set for the national Democratic convention.

The name of the new party is the National Civic Liberal party and a platform will be adopted which Scott says will call for the government ownership of transportation facilities and a pension list for former slaves.
S. O. Mitchell, of Memphis, Tenn., is president of the organization and L. L. Wallen, of Washington, D. C., vice-president.

WICKED CANADIANS

ACCUSED OF SMUGGLING.

U. S. Revenue Officers Seize Furs, and the Owners Say it Was all the Fault of a Montreal Firm.

(Bulletin Correspondence).
Washington, March 29.—The United States treasury department today announced that a number of seizures of furs had been made throughout the country which had been smuggled from Canada.

The furs were purchased, it is stated, in good faith by American tourists from a firm in Montreal on the distinct understanding that the furs would be delivered in the United States duty paid.
The United States government has put at the disposal of the purchasers the privilege of bringing suit against the firm, with the evidence in its possession.
In every case the furs have been seized by the United States government. Some of them have been returned on the payment of the full Canadian raise and duty added.
Others will be sold at public auction.

THE CALGARY MUDDLE.

(From the Eye Opener).
Now Barabaz was a robber.

The city of Calgary's now notorious scandal, which is unanimously spoken of amongst Calgary's citizens of all classes, high and low, rich and poor, as the Big Steel, began in this wise:

The council had passed a resolution authorizing the Finance Committee to set prices (including, of course, reserve prices) on some five hundred city lots and put them up for sale. The members of the Finance Committee who attended to this matter were Mayor Ramsay, Aldermen Jack Clark and Jack Macdonald. The two latter worthies did the appraising, and, between themselves collectively, conducted the arrangements leading up to the sale. Mayor Ramsay, the while, fulfilling his duties as chairman of the Clark-Macdonald meeting by sitting away off by himself at the stove, ruminating on the outcome of the Ramsay case was. The Mayor claims to have protested some suggestions evoking in the shrewd brains of the other two, but his protests must have been lodged in a Pickwickian sense, for, as an alderman, and a family member with committee technicalities, he knew perfectly well that all he had to do to stop the proceedings was to step out of the room and kill the quorum. He gave the deal his tacit support through remaining by the stove wondering if the Japs were still in "Ying Yang."

The committee rose at 6 o'clock with the lots duly priced, and when the town woke up next morning it was found that the lots had been stuffed off during the night to four chosen ones at from thirty to fifty per cent below their actual value in open market. The citizens not knowing anything about it, had no chance to bid. There was no bidding at all. The sale, by carefully preconcerted arrangement, was conducted late in the evening after business hours, or during the night, to the disadvantage of the city and of the citizens, and to the benefit of four individuals, two of whom were entire strangers to Calgary, but closely related to one of the city aldermen. The sales and transfers were made by the City Treasurer.

Calgary has herself to blame. The citizens themselves appointed this mixed-up council of blinking owls and hungry vultures, and they must take the consequences. If they will insist on electing inferior men, incompetent men and over-slick men to represent their interests, they have the right to howl when they find they have got the worst of it. Besides the fact must not be overlooked that many of those who are doing the most befiling are only so because they did not get a slice themselves. In a town like this where everybody is on the make, and where every second man is a grafter at heart (only lacking the opportunity), a secret feeling of admiration for the monumental gaff which promoted such a barefaced steal could prevail in many minds. The cry that wails up from many a heart is: "By gum, I wonder I in it! Why didn't they put me next?"

Anyone who imagines for a moment that honor and morality cut any ice nowadays when it comes to getting the big bait on the long green, must be very unphilosophical. Out west men's instincts are not toward peace, order and the simple, homely recompense of life. Not of your kintype. They are all out for the stuff, every mother's son of them.

As regards the alleged participation of certain aldermen in this grab we will say that from the action and demeanor of the aldermen present at the special council meeting which was called last Thursday to head off a proposed "public indignation meeting, it looked unpleasantly like as if the whole lot of them were implicated. Of course they were not. We merely say that it looked very much like as if they were.

The meeting was called to investigate. It did not investigate. The aldermen studiously avoided anything approaching an investigation. They seemed afraid to investigate for fear of incriminating a friend. Small business men in a small town dare not offend their friends lest they lose trade. The meeting was a farce. The city solicitor told them lucidly enough that the sale and transfers of the property would hold good in law; and yet, in order to make sure and allow popular indignation to subside, they finally decided to refer the question of legality to Muir & Jephson, the opinion to be read at the next regular meeting of the council. By that time the aldermen hope that the people will have cooled off or forgotten all about it.

This affair has an ugly look and is a bad beginning to Mayor Ramsay's term. Had the council a spark of self-respect they would resign in body like a discredited government and give the people a chance to weed out the unworthy servants, to side-track those who have proved inefficient or recalcitrant to their trust, and put in as trustees of the city's business and general welfare men of administrative ability, recognized standing and known integrity.

There is to our mind something very humorous in the situation. Imagine the city of Calgary with her population of 8,000, her magnificent buildings and far-reaching trade, her social and political importance in the west, her citizens comprising such men as W. R. Hull, Pat Burns, E. H. Crandell, C. W. Rowley, M. Morris, W. R. Bennett, E. S. C. Lee, R. J. Hutcheon, and, between themselves collectively, conducted the arrangements leading up to the sale. Mayor Ramsay, the while, fulfilling his duties as chairman of the Clark-Macdonald meeting by sitting away off by himself at the stove, ruminating on the outcome of the Ramsay case was. The Mayor claims to have protested some suggestions evoking in the shrewd brains of the other two, but his protests must have been lodged in a Pickwickian sense, for, as an alderman, and a family member with committee technicalities, he knew perfectly well that all he had to do to stop the proceedings was to step out of the room and kill the quorum. He gave the deal his tacit support through remaining by the stove wondering if the Japs were still in "Ying Yang."

It is stated that the loss to the city through the steel will amount to something in the neighborhood of $20,000. And yet those poor uneducated brutes, Bryant and Johnson, moral degenerates, who robbed a man openly and frankly of $125 in the Hudson's Bay store last week, are languishing in the jail, and will probably get five years apiece on the rock pile. The smothered gentry will continue to walk the streets, smoking Floribels and drinking confusion to the investigators.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN.

Fort Saskatchewan, March 30.—Dr. P. Aylen returned from another visit to the Saddle Lake Indians and reports the smallpox completely under control now.

Wilkin & Co., are now doing business in the store on Government street formerly occupied by Geo. Kimball.

J. Buxton, boiler inspector, has been in town the past few days holding examinations for engineers.

The Mansion House has again changed hands, Percy Elia, of Edmonton having bought out Andrew Watson.

Rev. Mr. Gold, of Vegreville, was a guest at the manse the beginning of the week.

Leon Moret is expecting his brick machinery daily from the east.

Delsu & Tercier have purchased the weigh scales lately owned and operated by Shero & Co., and have installed them opposite their butcher shop on Dennis avenue.

W. Hlythe, of Banff is in town on business.

Real estate is still running high.

PERSONAL

O. M. Biggar returned yesterday from Athabasca Landing.

Nurse Phillips returned from Westaskin last night.

Mrs. Shipley, of the Queens hotel, Fort Saskatchewan, is in town.

John A. Moore, of Red Deer, is registered at the Windsor.

W. H. Parsons went to Fort Saskatchewan this morning.

J. Buxton, boiler inspector, returned yesterday from Fort Saskatchewan.

Mrs. J. D. Green and Miss Fletcher came up from the Fort yesterday on route to Moose Jaw.

E. Richardson and J. Fairbairn, of Warwick, are in town today.

—The news reached Edmonton last evening by mail of the death of Mrs. A. F. Grady, wife of Captain Grady, of Meleed, N.W.T., who died of influenza in the Meleed Creek hospital on Friday, March 25th. Mr. and Mrs. Grady visited Edmonton last month. Mr. Grady is a brother of Mrs. J. E. Lee and Mrs. Elroy, of this town, and the news comes with a great shock, they not having heard of her illness.

—Speaking in Toronto on his return from England, President MacKenzie, of the C. N. R., said: "I struck England at a bad time. The war cloud was hanging over the situation and the declaration of war practically precluded doing anything in a financial way. However, before leaving, I succeeded in making satisfactory arrangements with financial people in London for placing the entire issue of $9,320,000 guaranteed debenture stock. With the funds raised, we will be able to extend the line as far as possible this year. We will not likely have rails laid as far as Edmonton by the end of the year—that is a very long way—but I expect the grading will be done that far. From what I learned on the other side I expect that immigration this year will far exceed past records. When I left for home numerous parties of immigrants were being organized in London and Liverpool."

BYLAW CARRIED

A Very Large Majority of the Rate-payers are in Favor of Extending the Light Plant.

By a vote of 147 to 42 the rate-payers yesterday endorsed the proposition to borrow $50,000 with which to extend the municipal lighting plant. The total vote was 189 and as a money-by-law requires a two-thirds majority, 126 was the minimum number of voters which would have carried the measure.

The vote was not large, but was larger than appeared likely during the early part of the day. Very few voters were around the hall in the forenoon, but later on the vote came in briskly. As evidence of the comparatively slight interest taken in the matter was the fact that the fire hall was deserted at the close of the poll, when a considerable crowd usually gathers there to await the report.

The result of the poll was made known by an extra issue of the Bulletin and distributed around town.

LADIES PLAY HOCKEY TO-NIGHT.

The third and final game in the series between the young ladies of Alberta college and the Collegiate Institute will be played in the rink this evening commencing at 7.30 sharp.

Tonight's game promises to be extremely interesting as each team now has a game to its credit.

The admission has been placed at 25c one-half of the proceeds to go to the public hospital. This furnishes an opportunity for all well wishers to the hospital to contribute to the funds of the Woman's Aid Society, while offering them the privilege of witnessing an interesting game of Canada's winter sport.

The last match netted $34.50 to the hospital funds and the ladies are anxious that this the last match of the season, should yield a substantial sum.

LOCAL.

—Train on time.

—Hand at the rink tomorrow, Friday, afternoon.

—The annual reports of the Ministers of Agriculture and Public Works have been issued.
